

24 - 27 August 2012

Cheltenham Racecourse

Wales Synod YWAG have managed to secure funding of £30 per head for the first 20 young people who apply to support young people (money towards transport and festival pass) towards attending this award winning Christian Festival on our doorstep.

To apply for funding e-mail amy.adams@methodistwales.org.uk

Youth groups are encouraged to make their own arrangements to attend the festival but YWAG are working with Connexional Children and Youth Officers to arrange a Wales Youth Meetup during the weekend. - Further details of the shape this will take will be published just as soon as we have them.

Individuals without a group to attend with can get in touch and we will try and put them in-touch with a nearby group attending the festival. (You must either be over 16, or with an organised group, or with another responsible adult to attend the festival.)

Open to all young people aged 11-18 and connected with a Methodist Church in Wales.

Apply now to secure your funding!

www.methodistwales.org.uk

www.methodistwales.org.uk

Greenbelt is a festival of music, performing and visual arts, talks, worship and investigation of social justice. This year's festival takes place from 27-30 August, at Cheltenham Racecourse in the Gloucestershire hills. The music programme features Gil Scott-Heron, Beverley Knight, Courtney Pine, Shed Seven, Ty, London Community Gospel Choir, Lou Rhodes, Foy Vance and The Dodge Brothers. Festivalgoers will enjoy talks from groundbreaking theologian Stanley Hauerwas, hermit Richard Rohr, former MP Clare Short, thoughtful agnostic Mark Vernon, inspirational youthwork expert Mark Yaconelli, national treasure Roger McGough, and comedians Milton Jones, Robin Ince and Jude Simpson.